Davone

Hello from Davone

With production and development based in Denmark, a country renowned for its design and acoustics, Davone has build loudspeakers by hand since 2007. The combination of the highest quality in sound and design makes Davone a pioneer in High-End audio.

Following Danish traditions, a flexible and small scale production gives Davone the freedom to experiment and implement ideas that would not be possible to sustain in large scale production. This enables us to only make innovative products we are really proud of. And we know that the Davone customers appreciate this extra effort.

With long lasting ownership in mind, the focus is on enjoying music. And with their signature appearance, the Davone loudspeakers offer more than High-End sound quality alone. A far cry from mass produced anonymity, the timeless Davone loudspeakers remain intriguing for many years to enjoy in sound and design.

Wireless Transmitters

A WiSA transmitter is all you need to connect your wireless Davone loudspeaker to your system.

WiSA is a wireless audio standard and several transmitters are available, each with their own unique benefits. Our recommended transmitter is the WiSA SoundSend. The SoundSend is a very basic and therefore also reliable design. Other more complex transmitters can be more troublesome in our experience and are therefore not recommended.
